

A great App to buy or sell your car AVOID CARRYING UNSAFE AMOUNTS OF CASH

CashSentinel provides a simple, safe and mobile system to buy or sell vehicles. It prevents buyers and sellers to carry unsafe amount of cash and offers them a secured escrow service enabling purchasing and selling second-hand vehicles via mobile phone. With CashSentinel, no need to take risks by carrying cash or pre-paying directly the seller. Instead CashSentinel enables its users to finalise the transaction anywhere and anytime, even on weekends. CashSentinel is an authorized Financial Intermediary in Switzerland and is a member of the self-regulation organization (SRO) Polyreg. It is built and run to the same security standards than those of Swiss bank.

"The degree of responsiveness and service of the team I have received was fantastic. Well organised and good at planning, able to work in an orderly, meticulous and qualitative way, Xample support us throughout the entire project. Xample did a great job at coding our app, but on top of that they helped us redefine our specifications to make sure to deliver the best user experience. I am looking forward to work again with the Xample team"

Security framework and iOS App Development

CashSentinel was looking for iOS experts that could deliver a great app but could also act as consultants to review specifications and improve them to match CashSentinel needs. Building the iOS app was not a trivial project: it required extra care to provide security standards similar to those of the Swiss banking industry. For the mobile app this is achieved through the integration of a highly secured framework, called Sysmosoft Sense. This Swiss solution protects company data through various security mechanisms such as: key management, encryption, strong authentication, dedicated cryptographic libraries and much more. Thanks to its flexibility and level of expertise Xample was able to face this challenge and deliver the CashSentinel app, working on Sense, on time and on budget.
